

ISP Washington, DC

The Ignatian Spirituality Project (ISP) invites people recovering from homelessness and addiction to encounter God's love, hope and healing through spiritual companionship that transforms lives. Our decades of experience align with what social science research continues to find: recovering a sense of self-worth, purpose, and belonging is an essential—and often overlooked—element of the journey of recovery. It's the foundation that helps other supports—like jobs and housing—last.

HISTORY

ISP Washington, DC began in 2009 thanks to a small group of enthusiastic and committed volunteers and the support of Holy Trinity Catholic Church. Today we have an active men's and women's program and strong relationships with multiple social service agencies across the DC area.

ABOUT US

ISP Washington DC currently hosts eight overnight retreats per year and twice-monthly spiritual reflections at multiple partner agencies. Every Advent, the team hosts a dinner and prayer event with Holy Trinity for the entire ISP community. Additionally, several team members and alumni actively participate in ISP's national facilitator formation retreats and the alumni leadership program.

ISP is grateful for the agencies, retreat centers, schools, and parishes that are a part of our ministry including:
