Since [my ISP retreat], my relationship with God has grown. Now, I feel free to be “me” and to show people who I really am. I don’t have to pretend anymore. I know that God loves me just as I am and I need to love myself the same way. So many positive changes have happened since I went on my first ISP retreat. My relationships with my family members are beautiful now. My sons forgave me for my past mistakes and we became very close after that. I get to share my story with other women and it continues to be healing for me. Every time I tell my story, I feel like I am letting out the negative past so that the positive, the love of God, can come in and fill me up.

-St. Louis-area retreat alum and current team member

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the Ignatian Spirituality Project is to offer life-changing spiritual retreats for people who are homeless and in recovery from addiction.

By strengthening people's connection with God, Ignatian retreats lay a foundation of hope which can lead to long-lasting transformation.

Dear ISP Community,

We can't thank you enough for your friendship, commitment and support. Looking back on our 2017 program year, we are mindful of how your generosity provided an incredible springboard from which to successfully embark on our Strategic Plan: Vision 2020.

During this first year of the Plan, we provided over 2,000 individuals with experiences of hope and healing through 250+ retreats across 29 ISP affiliates. We also launched new ISP affiliates in Toronto, ON and Ridgewood, NJ. These programs are an example of our new "institutional affiliate" model, wherein existing 501c3 organizations, such as parishes and retreat centers, join our network by sponsoring ISP programs as part of their ministry. In Toronto, we are partnering with the Jesuits of English Canada, while in Ridgewood we are collaborating with Our Lady of Mt. Carmel parish. Each bring rich gifts to the ISP network and we are thrilled to welcome these new partners!

As we look ahead to our 20th anniversary year, we are filled with gratitude and anticipation: gratitude for the ways in which your investment in the ISP ministry has allowed us to touch and change thousands of lives, and anticipation for new opportunities to bring experiences of God's love to men and women on the margins. Thank you for being with us on the journey!

Gratefully,

Tom and Camille

OUR MISSION

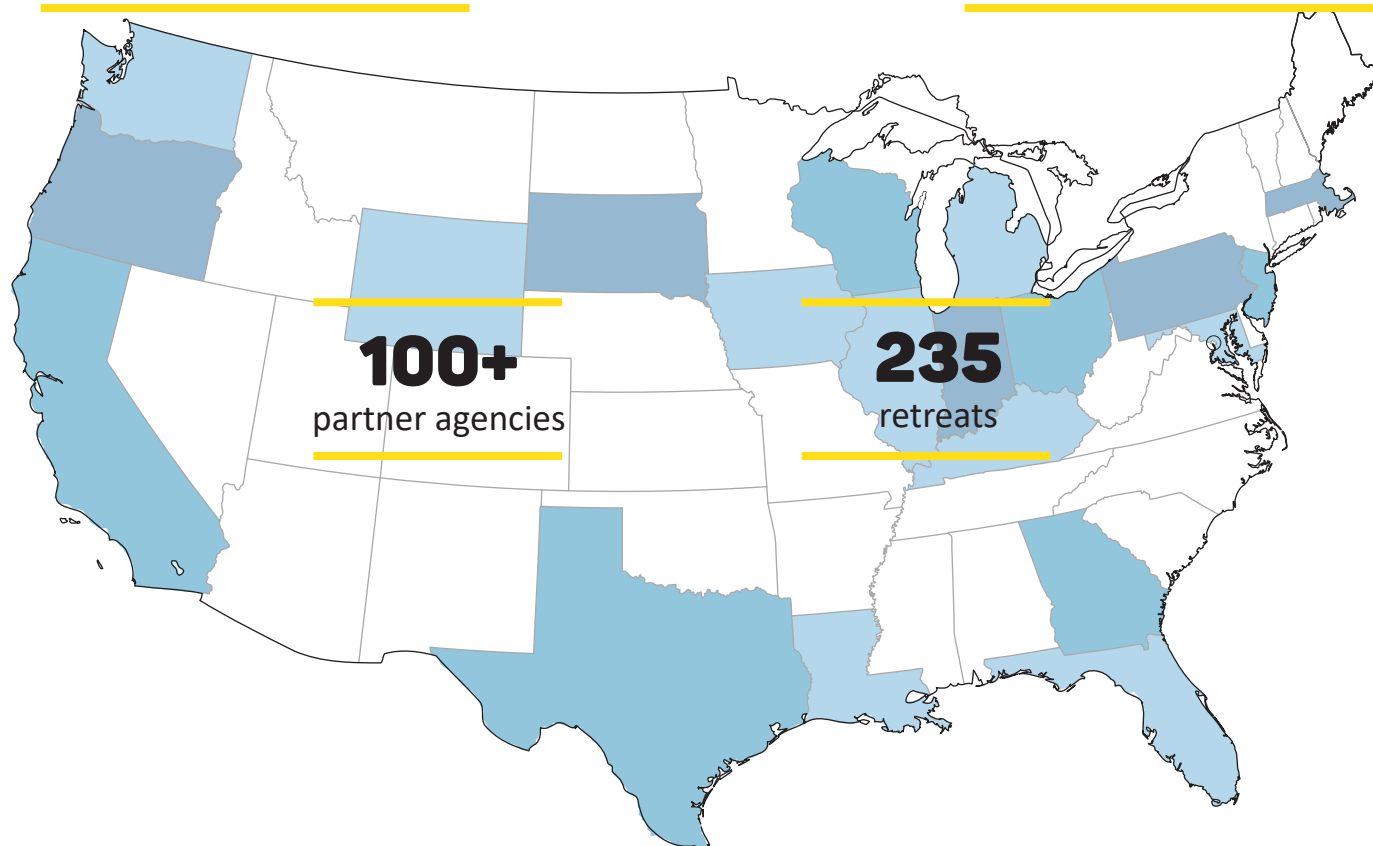

The Ignatian Spirituality Project offers men and women who are homeless and in recovery from addiction the opportunity to change their lives. Ignatian spirituality and Ignatian retreats are an effective and important resource in laying a foundation of hope which can lead to further and long lasting transformation.

After the retreat, people started saying stuff to me about how much I was changing, about how I was becoming a role model, how I'd had all these significant changes in myself, and I'm going, "What are you talking about? I still feel terrible, I look terrible." I didn't see it at first, but they did. Some-thing had started changing and I know it now. I was a loner, and when I first got to the treatment center I still isolated my-self. When I came back from the retreat I felt rejuvenated to the point that I was gradually able to interact a little bit. I had the ability now to pray to a Higher Power which really relieved my soul... The retreat made a big difference to me because I wasn't as angry as I had been. I learned to accept things better. I was firmly rooted into something.
